Daily Planet

Friday, Feb. 20   2004

NASA Software of the Year nominations open

Nominations for the NASA Software of the Year Award are being accepted through April 16. The award recognizes software developed and owned by NASA. A certificate of recognition and a Space Act award of up to $100,000 will be given to the winner. For competition guidance and forms, go to http://icb.nasa.gov. For details, call 544-0013 or 544-0014.

February is Black History Month

Blood drive Friday, 8 a.m.-1:30 p.m., Bldg. 4316

Construction work to detour pedestrian traffic at Bldg. 4200

Construction work in the southwest corner of Bldg. 4200 next to the loading dock will begin Monday and continue through April. The work will be done during normal working hours. Marshall team members should, if possible, use other available entrances and exits to the building. If in the construction area, please use extreme caution. For details, call 544-5626.

Structural Health Monitoring course openings available

A Structural Health Monitoring course on embedded sensing and telemetry in problem detection has openings available. The course will be Wednesday-Friday from 8:30 a.m.-4 p.m. Seating is limited. Apply using Form 59 or NORS. For details, see "Inside Marshall" or call 544-8315.

Mars rover updates at http://www.nasa.gov/home/index.html